

YOUTH TELLS OF SEIZURE BY ROBBERS

Doctor Also Witness in Trial of Leonore Robber-Killers

Ottawa, Ill., March 1.—(AP)—The doctor who found J. Charles Bundy, Leonore, Ill., bank cashier, dead of gunshot wounds after a raid on the Leonore State bank on January 16 told his story today as a state witness in the trial of Fred Gerner and Arthur Thiel, Rockford gunmen charged with Bundy's murder.

The witness, Dr. E. H. Altschwaeger of Tonic, Ill., said Bundy had been shot through the lung and that a bullet had passed through the large artery leading from the heart.

Sheriff Lawrence Ellena of Putnam county testified that he was at the Jacob Jaeger farm when Gerner and Thiel, both of Rockford, and John Hauff, 32, Chicago, were captured after their unsuccessful attempt to rob the bank.

All Were Armed
Ellena identified a pistol found in the Jaeger home which he said the defendants admitted was theirs. He also identified a fountain pen near Gerner, who killed himself before capture. Ellena said that guns were found on Liest and Hauff, who has pleaded guilty to Bundy's murder. Gerner, Thiel and Hauff also are under indictment for murder in the deaths of Supervisor Charles Seipp and Sheriff Glenn Axline of Marshall county, who were killed in the battles which followed the bank robbery attempt.

Hostage Testified
Late yesterday the jury in Judge Robert E. Larkin's court heard 16-year-old Robert Naas, who was taken as a hostage by the fleeing robbers, describe the shootings. He identified the defendants as two of the men who forced him to stand on the running board on an auto while they fled the gun-fire of a hastily organized posse pursuing them.

"They got our pal," Naas quoted the men as saying shortly after three of them roared out of town in a commandeered car, and then turned about to rescue their comrade, Bundy and Seipp fell before the desperadoes' gunfire as they freed their accomplice.

Head Between Knees
"I put my head between my knees," said the youth, "when they started firing on the sheriff." Their guns smoking the bandits took him to a farmhouse Naas said, where he was released by posses that captured them.

Frank Reed Passed Away at His Home on Squires Avenue

Frank Reed passed away yesterday afternoon about 1:30 at his residence, 317 Squires avenue, his death ending an illness of about two years duration. He had been bedfast for only two days. Mr. Reed was born in Ogles county, north of Ashton, March 6, 1862 and at the time of his passing was aged 72 years, 11 months and 22 days. He engaged in active farming for several years in the vicinity of his birth, but retired from active life about 15 years ago, moving to Dixon where he has since resided. Funeral services will be conducted from the residence Saturday afternoon at 1:30, and the remains will be taken to Washington Grove cemetery, north of Ashton, for interment. The obituary will be published later.

Pruning Experts to Stage Demonstration in Palmyra Tuesday

A pruning demonstration, to which all interested are invited, will be given at the A. Powers & Son farm near Palmyra next Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by Doctors Kelly and Shropshire of the University of Illinois. The demonstration is being sponsored by the Farm Bureau and the Lee Co. Horticultural Society and the two organizations will hold a joint meeting at the Palmyra church at 7:30 o'clock that evening following a picnic supper at the church at 6:30.

Rockford Requests Loan of $1,100,000 for Public Projects

Rockford.—(AP)—Mayor C. H. Bloom requested a $1,100,000 public works loan to finance construction of a new State street bridge across the Rock river costing $150,000; a city-wide storm sewer system costing $750,000, and street and alley pavements totaling $200,000.

STEADY ADVANCE

Washington, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Food prices in three Illinois cities, Chicago, Springfield and Peoria, have risen steadily during the past two years, the bureau of labor statistics has announced.

An index of 42 important food items showed that on February 12, prices in Springfield were two per cent higher than they were two weeks before, 4.8 per cent higher than January 15; 17 per cent higher than a year ago, 37.8 per cent higher than two years ago, but still 23 per cent lower than February 15, 1930.

In Peoria, prices on February 12 were 1 per cent higher than two weeks before, 1.6 per cent higher than January 15; 14.8 per cent higher than a year ago, 36.4 per cent higher than two years ago, but still 22.3 per cent below the level of 1930.

In Chicago, prices on that same date were 1 per cent higher than two weeks before; 4.7 per cent higher than four weeks before; 14.3 per cent above 1932 levels; but 22 per cent below the 1930 level.

WRECKING SKY RIDE PROBLEM FOR ENGINEERS

Experts Undecided How to Take Big World's Fair Ride Apart

Chicago, March 1.—(AP)—Construction of the Century of Progress Exposition was problem enough, but now engineers are battling a really tough one—that of taking it apart.

Most difficult of their problems is that of dismantling the Sky Ride which spans a half-mile wide jagged and whose twin towers, with a combined weight of 6,000,000 pounds, stretch 628 feet into the sky. A baffling part of the problem is the ten 6,200 pound rocket cars at the 200 foot level, which are supported by 650,000 pounds of cable. However, when it is decided how to let the towers and equipment down gently, the problem of disposing of it will be easy. Any number of people have offered to take the somewhat cumbersome gadget off the wrecker's hands.

Wants to Buy It All
There is, for instance, a man in Cumberland county, Kentucky, who wants to buy the whole thing, cars and all. He has a place to keep it—two mountains. He wrote the wrecking contractors that he would like to install the towers, one on each mountain, and sell cross-valley rides.

First plans were to begin dismantling today, and it had been announced that the ten rocket cars were to be dropped from their 200 foot perch. Later the two towers were to be undermined and their individual weights of 3,000,000 pounds each were to be allowed to crash.

After a consultation of engineers, however, this plan was abandoned temporarily and the wrecking postponed until a more suitable plan is devised. The effect of a 3,000,000 pound bump worried the engineers.

FEDERAL POWER DAM AT LYNDON BEING AGITATED

Congressman Aiken Asked to Give Support to Project

Kansas City, March 1.—(AP)—Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis today entered a memorandum opinion upholding the right of the PWA to join with a municipality in the construction of a municipal utility. The opinion was in a case involving Trenton, Mo., and the Missouri Public Service Company.

The company, owner of the present electric plant in Trenton, was denied an injunction against the city of Trenton and the PWA, and Trenton was thereby authorized to proceed with construction of its own plant.

Downstate Illinois Relief Roll Increased 6,000 Families During 1934 Annual Report Discloses

Chicago, March 1.—(AP)—Downstate Illinois relief rolls increased from an average of 106,000 families per month in 1933 to 140,000 families in 1934, the Illinois Relief Commission said today. While Cook county relief rolls were cut from 157,000 families in 1933 to 121,000 in 1934.

Objections incurred for relief in downstate counties rose from $18,000,000 to $38,000,000 during the year, while Cook county showed

OPPOSITION TO NEW TAX SCHEME GAIN STRENGTH

Proposals Before State Legislature Facing Gloomy Future

Springfield, Ill., March 1.—(AP)—New opposition arose today to endanger the already gloomy prospects for the bills to raise $450,000,000 a year by new and higher taxes for unemployment relief.

Word was received from Chicago that Mayor Edward J. Kelly had branded as "inequitable schemes" the new tax bills, chief of which are proposals for a three per cent sales tax, a four cent gasoline tax and a three per cent tax on utilities.

With the Horner administration silent and the legislative leaders unable to agree, opposition by Kelly would keep most of the Cook county delegation from supporting the only positive proposals made for the raising of the $3,000,000 monthly the state must contribute if the federal government is to continue its support of relief.

Estimates are that the three major bills—to increase the gas and sales tax one cent each and extend the sales tax to utilities—would give the state up to $450,000,000 a year in additional revenue, enough to take care of old age pensions as well as relief.

Hit Directly at Chicago
Kelly was quoted as opposing the tax bills on the ground that they "hit directly at Chicago and Cook county, where the biggest proportionate share of the revenues is collected."

Conjecture was that the fourth bill in the Lewis-Williams series, for a three per cent tax on approximately 150 occupations and professions, would be dropped, possibly at the request of its sponsors.

The executive committee chairman, Rep. F. W. Lewis of Robinson and Senator Louis O. Williams of Clinton, who shouldered individual responsibility for getting relief tax bills introduced, proposed that the new revenue plans go into effect March 15, so that the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission could have more state funds a month later.

Quick Action Unlikely
There was grave doubt, however, that the legislature could get a two-third majority for any plan by mid-March, further complications resulting from the Republican demand that the relief organization be changed at the same time.

So far, not a single voice has been lifted in public support for the proposals to increase the sales and gasoline taxes one cent each. Two months ago in his message to the new legislature, the governor recommended that utilities be placed under the two per cent sales tax. As a result the proposed three per cent tax on sales of gas, water and electricity by public and private utilities is assumed to have at least partial administration approval.

Semi-official estimates last week were that a two per cent tax on utilities would produce from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 a year. At three per cent, this figure would be increased to a $15,000,000 maximum.

"Supreme Arbiter" of Tides' Ebb and Flow Quits Throne

Cranleigh, Eng., Mar. 1.—(AP)—King Prajadhipok of Siam was announced by his private secretary today to have abdicated the throne. The announcement of abdication "The Supreme Arbiter of the Ebb and Flow of the Tides" was made by M. R. Smakman, who has been here with his king on a "vacation" from troubled Siam.

The king's rejection of his throne follows months of internal disputes in Siam over governmental matters and repeated conferences in London with a delegation of countrymen who attempted to patch up the wide split between the monarch and his administration officials.

An official notification reaching King Prajadhipok from his capital, Bangkok, that parliament had bluntly rejected his conditions for retaining the throne was the final straw for the picturesque monarch.

CEMENT STREETS IN "LOOP" URGED BY BUSINESSMEN

Say Resurfacing Will be Only Temporary and Make-Shift

One of Dixon's leading merchants today offered constructive criticism of the city's program of proposed improvements to be undertaken under the federal emergency relief program. He was strongly opposed to the plan of resurfacing the streets in the downtown business district with a black top material, which was termed only temporary and make-shift.

The plan favored, which has been advocated by both property owners and business men is for the removal of the present brick and the old sandstone curb slabs, the removing of the ties which supported the street car rails before they were taken out, and the construction of new concrete curb, gutter and paving throughout the business district. It was pointed out that such an improvement would cost only slightly more than the temporary resurfacing program, and would serve to furnish employment in a greater measure than by the plan proposed by the city.

With a cement street improvement, the product of the local cement plant could be used in preference to material shipped from an outside source thus increasing the output at the cement plant and the actual work of construction would employ several men in that work for a short time. In the end, it was pointed out, the city council would possess streets which would be permanent in construction and would vastly improve the appearance of shopping district.

Federal Judge Holds PWA Can Help Build Municipal Utilities

Lyndon.—Construction of a federal dam at Lyndon, at an estimated cost of a million dollars, has been proposed and petitions are being circulated to ask Congressman Leo Allen to support the project. A group of Lyndon citizens are backing the move. Object of the dam, which would be in Rock river would be to furnish electric power.

If the project goes beyond preliminary stages, a PWA grant of funds probably will be sought. Relief labor would be used in the construction of the dam and auxiliary works. Petition, which will be forwarded to Congressman Allen at Washington, D. C., is worded as follows: "We, the undersigned voters, taxpayers and residents of the Thirteenth Congressional district in the state of Illinois, are heartily in favor of the Lyndon Federal dam project, and request your support."

Anti-Oriental Act in California Urged by Rep. Legislator

Sacramento, Calif., Mar. 1.—(AP)—Stilled passions of California for and against the Oriental may be stirred to life once more through the state legislature.

An attempt to enact a law which would prevent any Japanese, Chinese or other alien ineligible for citizenship in the United States from engaging in farming in California has been launched by Assemblyman Clarence Walker (R).

The Walker bill revived memories of the alien land law which sent a wave of resentment against the United States surging over Japan a decade ago. By that measure aliens ineligible for citizenship were prevented from owning land and Orientals fell in that class.

Much of the land in California, the home of many Orientals, is farmed by Japanese and Hindus.

Aurora Man Jealous of Divorced Spouse; Wrecks Caller's Car

Aurora.—(AP)—Michael Urbealis, 39, was held today charged with using an axe to wreck the auto of Ralph Wooley, milk wagon driver, while he was calling on Urbealis' divorced wife, Agnes. The couple were divorced ten years ago, but Urbealis lives in a cottage near his former wife.

LAMB-LIKE ENTRY

The March lamb gamboled across northern Illinois today accompanied by sunny skies and balmy temperatures.

Capricious as the month may be before its thirty one days have passed into oblivion, March dealt an appetizing weather menu to smiling merchants anticipating an increase in spring trade most any day now.

Legend does not promise the happy concoction brewed by amiable Mother Nature today, to endure the entire month, however. The woolly March lamb sauntering in may be a wolf (or lion) in sheep's clothing. And when March comes in like a lamb, he is reputed to show his true colors on the way out.

MENTAL TEST OF SCHNEPP STOPS TRIP BACK HOME

Former Mayor of Springfield in Jacksonville for Observation

Jacksonville, Ill., March 1.—(AP)—John S. Schnepf's trip back to his home in Springfield, where he was mayor twenty years ago, was interrupted today for a mental examination here.

As he was placed in the Morgan county jail early this morning, the aged man made public a statement written on the train as he was brought back from Los Angeles to face embezzlement charges, saying: "I have never been a fugitive from justice, but have been a victim of amnesia."

With him was one of his sons, C. Clyde Schnepf of Springfield, who boarded the train during the night at Louisiana, Mo.

Sangamon county officials arranged to have Schnepf taken this morning to the Norbury sanitarium here, to be examined by Dr. Frank P. Norbury of Jacksonville, and Dr. Paul L. Schroeder of Chicago, state criminologist.

Officers Surprised
Schnepf was taken from the train at Roodhouse and driven here by State's Attorney Alfred E. Greening and Sheriff Luke J. Gaul, of Springfield. They had planned to keep the Jacksonville stop a secret, fearing a habeas corpus writ, but were surprised to find the prisoner had already been united with one of his sons.

The son said no effort would be made to halt the mental examination. Talking freely, Schnepf said he was not concerned about his future, that he wouldn't plead insanity and that he would make every effort to repay all the money he owes. He insisted that the first 65 years of his life are a blank and that he cannot remember past the time he was taken to a Texas hospital two and a half years ago.

To Publish Books
He plans to publish some books to get money, and said that in an autobiography under preparation that the truth is stranger than fiction.

In custody of Deputy Sheriff Wm. J. Natterman, Schnepf made the trip from Los Angeles in day coaches. "I think I stood the trip better than Bill," he remarked.

President Buys Six of U. S. 'Baby Bonds'

Washington, March 1.—(AP)—Six "baby bonds" were purchased by President Roosevelt today in a White House ceremony that signalled a nation-wide offering to the "little fellow" of a new government security.

Throughout the land, 14,000 post-offices made available to the people the same opportunity to invest in federal bonds.

Roosevelt purchased a $25 bond for each of his five grandchildren and one of the same denomination for himself. They were the first sold of the initial offering.

Have New Plans for Ending Bombings in Illinois Mine Areas

Chicago.—(AP)—Emory J. Smith, special assistant to Attorney General Otto Kerner, said important new plans for ending violence in the Illinois mining areas have been formulated and that he would leave soon for southern Illinois to push the federal and state drive against bombings and other outrages.

Your Evening Telegraph carrier boy will call upon you tomorrow for the regular weekly collection. Be kind enough to have the money ready. There are 35 carriers who must cover their routes in haste. Please assist them.

HEIRESS FOUND DEAD IN AUTO; CAUSE MYSTERY

Abrasions on Leg and Thigh of Young Woman Unexplained

Pinehurst, N. C., March 1.—(AP)—A coroner's jury turned today to a physician's test tubes and microscope to help it explain the strange death of Mrs. H. Bardley Davidson, heiress to the Statler hotel millions. The 22-year-old former Olympic swimmer, married only two months ago to H. Bradley Davidson, 41, Washington socialite, was found dying under the wheel of her automobile in the family garage three days ago.

An autopsy, incomplete as yet, confirmed the statement of the attending physician, Dr. M. W. Marr of Pinehurst, that the immediate cause of the young woman's death was carbon monoxide poisoning, but further examinations were ordered.

Bruises Unexplained
Dr. C. C. Carpenter of the Wake Forest medical faculty, who assisted Dr. Marr in performing the autopsy, told the coroner's jury:

"The only condition found capable of producing death was carbon monoxide poisoning, but certain chemical analyses and microscopic examinations will be required before the autopsy is complete."

Although he did not indicate what, if any, significance they might have, Dr. Carpenter also reported finding a dozen minute abrasions, not more than 48 hours old, on the right hip and thigh of the young heiress.

ADMINISTRATION OVER-BALLYHOODED SAYS SNELL

New Yorker Says Nation is Losing Much of Confidence

Washington, March 1.—(AP)—Bertrand H. Snell, house minority leader, said today the recent adverse decisions in the courts on New Deal legislation would "increase the nation's lack of confidence in the administration."

In commenting to reporters on political and legislative developments, Snell assailed what he termed "organized propaganda" spread by Roosevelt leaders to get the country behind the president on the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill dispute. He criticized the emergency legislation as "experimental and hasty" and said the administration was being "over-ballyhoosed."

The New Yorker, mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate, hit the AAA's crop production policies with the statement that "we are importing wheat and other foodstuffs that ought to have been produced here."

"Man's laws can in no way subvert to God's laws," he said. "They may be set aside temporarily, but in the long run they will come into their own."

Snell said if President Roosevelt had proposed a "reasonable" public works relief bill he would have encountered no trouble in congress.

Donovan Adamant in Ignoring Wishes of Republican Senators

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 1.—(AP)—Liet. Gov. Thomas F. Donovan, adamant in his refusal to appoint Senator Noah M. Mason of Oglesby to the commission which is to recommend changes in the Illinois public schools system, today announced that Senator T. V. Smith of Chicago will be asked to fill the vacancy.

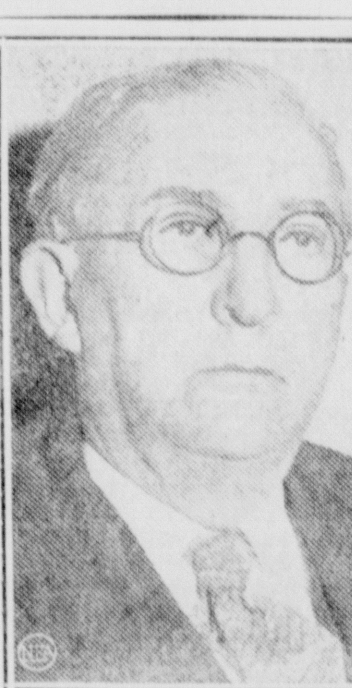

Smith, a Democrat, is a University of Chicago professor. Donovan denied the request of the Republican caucus that a minority position on the investigating commission be given to Mason, a Republican who last year was president of the State Teachers Association and who has been severe in his denunciation of the administration's school policies.

Kansas City and Community Shaken by Earth Shock Early Today; No Damage Reported in Any of Cities

Kansas City, March 1.—(AP)—A light earthquake shook portions of four midwestern states early today and sent residents of widely scattered cities hurrying to telephones with anxious inquiries. No damage was reported. No one was hurt.

The disturbance apparently centered in southeastern Nebraska where a distinct tremor at 5 A. M. (Central Standard time) was followed by another four minutes later. Iowa, Kansas and Missouri

FURNISHES BOND

REV. EDW. L. BROOKS

Whose maternity hospital in Chicago and "baby farm" in Beulah, Mich. are under investigation, Rev. Brooks was released last night on a $2000 bond after spending five days in a Chicago jail. He charged that Chicago police had "practically kidnapped" him at Traverse City, Mich., when they returned him to Cook county to answer an indictment for operating a hospital without a license. He had just faced an investigation of his "baby farm" by Michigan authorities, who had alleged that wholesale deaths of babies had occurred there.

HUEY'S PEOPLE SPECULATE OVER HIS AMBITIONS

Louisianans Surprised by Announcement He Eyes Governorship

Baton Rouge, La., March 1.—(AP)—Political Louisiana speculated today over Senator Huey P. Long's announcement that he would be a candidate for governor in January, 1936.

As the special session of the legislature prepared to speed 23 new bills on to final passage tomorrow ending another of the momentous five-day gatherings of law makers centered around the senator's announced candidacy.

The gubernatorial primary is set for January, 1936, the same date as the primary for the United States senate seat Long now holds. Some observers thought it unlikely that Long would wish to relinquish his seat in the senate, particularly in view of his presidential aspirations.

Presidency "Later"
Asked yesterday whether he still intended to run for president, Long said:

"That comes later." The senatorial election formerly was scheduled for the fall of 1936, but by a recent law it was moved over to January. It was said, however, that it would be an easy matter for Long to set the senate date back again so that he could run for governor in January and then, if he wished, for senator later in the year.

The house yesterday readily passed all of Long's measures and sent them over to the senate which promptly referred them to its finance committee which in turn immediately reported them favorably.

Official Township Ticket Announced by Clerk Fallstrom

The official ticket for the Dixon township election Tuesday, April 2, was announced by Town Clerk Walter Fallstrom this morning, the time for filing nominating petitions having expired. The ticket is:

For Supervisor—D. H. Spencer, Wade Pierce, Leon Miller, A. C. High and W. W. Teschendorf. For Ass't Supervisor—W. Rose, Lee R. Redfern, Henry Gehant and E. H. Stanley.

For Commissioner of Highways—James Devine, Jr., Charles Stanley and James Penny. For Justice of the Peace (to fill vacancy)—Harold E. Nimz.

Chicago Girl, Missing Week, is Sought

Chicago, March 1.—(AP)—Authorities renewed search for Peggy Jean Combes, 14, today when her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Combes, reported to police she still had not heard from her daughter, missing for a week.

She was believed at first to have gone to the home of relatives in St. Anne, Ill., but check there revealed the child had not been seen. Mrs. Combes feared that the girl, inspired by reading adventure tales, had run away for she had told a girl friend she was "going west."

HOLMES HOLDING OWN; HIS LIFE AT STAKE

Former Justice's Vitality Amazes Friends Able to Laugh

BULLETIN.

Washington, March 1.—(AP)—Physicians attending Oliver Wendell Holmes reported after a noon visit today that the retired supreme court justice was "holding his own."

This word was given newsmen through Holmes' former secretary, Mark Howe. Finding the aged jurist's condition unchanged, Howe quoted the attending doctors as saying:

"The fact that he is holding his own is very encouraging." "Mr. Holmes is conscious," Howe said, "and has not suffered at all since the beginning of his illness. He has had no visitors today, however. He is resting comfortably."

Washington, March 1.—(AP)—A report that former supreme court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, stricken with pneumonia, had spent "a very fine night" was given newsmen today by Francis Biddle, chairman of the national labor relations board, an early caller at the jurist's home.

Emerging from the modest red brick residence, Biddle, a former secretary to Holmes, said:

"They told me that he had spent a very fine night and was considerably improved."

"They said that he was in good spirits and had some cereal for breakfast."

Laughed at Friend.

"Why they even told me that when Felix Frankfurter was walking by the bed, the justice went like this (Biddle then thumbed his nose) and laughed heartily."

"I understand that both Professor Frankfurter and James G. Palfrey of Boston have seen the justice."

"I know also that they stopped giving him a heart stimulant yesterday." He is a marvelous old man. It certainly is miraculous when a man almost 94 has pneumonia and does not require a stimulant for his heart."

After Dr. Thomas J. Claylor had spent 15 minutes with Mr. Holmes, Mark Howe, the former secretary to the jurist, told reporters the doctor had found his patient "unchanged, comfortable and in good spirits."

Treatment Unknown.
Although he did not know the nature of the treatment the doctor was giving, he felt sure that neither artificial stimulants nor oxygen would be required again, at least for the present.

Another caller today was Alger Hiss, also a former secretary to Mr. Holmes and at present assisting in carrying out the senate munitions investigation.

Howe said the jurist was able to see visitors and that Frankfurter and Palfrey, who came to Washington from Boston yesterday had spent considerable time with him.

Stories of the justice's wit and his career were repeated in the anxious capital. Among the reminiscences there was speculation as to what his decisions might have been on some of the legal tests faced by the New Deal. One of his rare interviews, given to a college journalist in 1933 after his retirement, was recalled. In it he was quoted as saying developments under the NRA were "nothing to howl about."

Famous Dissenter.
"There always have been changes in the interpretations laid on the constitution, and there always will be," said the statement attributed to Holmes by the young interviewer.

Justice Holmes, whose father was the author of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," knew Lincoln and was wounded in the Civil war.

He is famous for his dissenting opinions, many of which have attracted far more attention than majority decisions with which he took issue. Laymen read many of them as literature.

WILL PROBATED.
The will of the late William H. Carnahan of Compton was admitted to probate before Judge William L. Leach in the county court this morning. The instrument bearing date of January 23, 1935, names a son, Grover G. Carnahan, as executor of the estate. Real estate valued at $48,000 and personal property of the value of $2,500 are listed, to be divided among the five sons as follows: Glen Carnahan of Chicago and Grover, Roy, Ralph and Donald Carnahan of Compton.

TO IOWA MEETING.
State Conservation Inspector Charles Duis will represent the Illinois Department of Conservation at a meeting to be held in Clinton, Iowa, next Thursday, which will be attended by several of the officials of the Iowa state game and fish department. The meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing proposed legislation in both Illinois and Iowa which will result in uniform regulations of both the fish and game code. It is expected that about 200 conservationists will attend the meeting which will be presided over by Monte Sales, a former resident of Dixon.

ICE HOLDING FIRM.
The cold weather of the early part of the week, froze over the open places on Rock river and the ice above the dam became more solid. The river in recent years has been clear of ice by the first of March and is unusually late in clearing this spring. The thickness of the ice and the cold weather of this week, indicate another ten days delay before the ice begins to move, unless an unusually warm spell is experienced. The stage of water which was quite high for a few days has dropped to an average level, which may be greatly increased when the ice starts moving.

Wholesale Executions Accompany Flight Before Nationalist Forces

BULLETIN
Peiping, China, March 1—(AP)—The United States legation was informed today that the two missing American missionaries, Miss R. V. Thompson of Nevada, Iowa, and Alma R. Artibey of Chicago, had arrived safely at Fengsiang, 90 miles west of Sian.

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)

Sian Shensi, China, March 1—A reign of terror, accompanied by wholesale executions and looting of towns marked the passage of 25,000 Communist troops during the last fortnight, missionary reports disclosed today.

The Reds poured into the district from northern Szechwan province, whence they were driven by General Chang Kai Shek's Nationalist government forces.

Some 25 missionaries abandoned their posts to escape the menace and fled through ice and snow covered mountains in quest of sanctuary.

Only two Americans.

Only two of the fugitives, Miss R. V. Thompson of Nevada, Iowa, and Miss Alma R. Artibey of Chicago, were believed to be Americans.

A portion of the scattered Christian workers, many of whom carried their children in their arms as they abandoned their stations, has been accounted for. About one-half their number was reported to have reached Fengsiang to the westward and Ankang, in southeastern Shensi.

The two Americans were last reported safe and enroute to Fengsiang, although delayed by the hazardous travel conditions.

The Rev. and Mrs. S. C. French, Australian missionaries, believed to have been kidnapped by the invaders, were still unreported.

PLANNING LIFE
By Joseph Fort Newton
ULIAN HUXLEY, in telling what he would do if he were dictator, marks three eras in the story of man, three steps in the long, slow advance out of brutishness toward the star of light.

The first was the era of agriculture, of seedtime and harvest, which alone permitted settled life, cities, leisure, written language, learning the arts of the home and the offices of religion.

The second was the discovery of the universal ideas in philosophy, in morals, in mathematics, in religion, upon which man built his structures of thought, action, interpretation and spiritual faith.

The third era, born of a meeting of two currents of life, is a fusion of both in the form of science, an effort to know the facts of the world and to learn how to use them for humanity.

To these three steps, he argues, must now be added a fourth, a human providence, so to speak, added to divine providence man working with man, planning his life, using all his facts and his faith.

The taking of this step is long overdue, and the chaos of the world is the result, in which we have poverty in the midst of plenty, and misery and mutilation where there should be happiness.

We must first see that humanity is a unity, and that the good of the race as a whole does actually exist. At present we do not see that fact, and so we go in many directions to no common end.

But once we do see that obvious fact, we can plan at first piecemeal in small areas then as nations, and finally in larger groups, working toward wider and larger enterprises of cooperation.

It need not mean a world-state, in which local color and loyalty are bleached out in a bloodless fabric. Nor can it be done by force, but only by a practical fraternity of intelligent free men.

No doubt it seems far off at present, but that need not dismay us. It is not impossible, it is inevitable. The sheer pressure of fact and necessity will drive us to plan as partners or perils.

Encouraging Report Given at W. H. M. S. Meeting at Whitson Home

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church held an enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Whitson Thursday afternoon with 32 present. Sixty-two in the society have nine boxes. Some of the Auxiliaries to the society gave reports as follows:

The Home Guards reported about a Japanese supper.

Mother's Jewels have three new members.

The Queen Esther's who have two new members told of foreign work.

Mrs. Croft told of attending the Women's Auxiliary luncheon of the Methodist church in Morrison.

Mrs. Bills told of attending a luncheon and pageant of the Sterling W. H. M. S.

It was reported that the Campbell Settlement needed sheets.

Mrs. Brewster gave the devotion. Miss Anderson told of visiting Rev. A. T. Stephenson's church and the Dixon church won $5 for attendance.

Miss Josephine Nichols gave an interesting paper on the Japanese. Miss Armstrong gave a delightful address on Hawaii. Myron Austin gave several solos on the Hawaiian guitar and also sang several Hawaiian songs.

Roast Pork Loin

(With Gravy)

5 lb. pork loin

1 teaspoon salt

1-4 teaspoon paprika

1-4 teaspoon celery salt

6 peeled sweet potatoes

2-3 cup water

3 tablespoons flour

Fit pork into roasting pan,

sprinkle with 1-2 teaspoon salt,

paprika and celery salt. Add 1-2

the water. Cover and bake 1 hour in moderate oven. Turn to allow even cooking and baste every 20 minutes. Add rest of water and bake 30 minutes. Add potatoes which have been sprinkled with remaining salt and bake 45 minutes or until potatoes are well browned and soft. Remove pork to serving platter, surround with potatoes. Mix flour with 1-3 cup cold water and add to drippings left in roasting

pan. Boil 2 minutes, stir constantly.

Serve this gravy in a dish.

Hot Slaw

(Using Leftover Egg Yolks)

3 egg yolks

5 tablespoons sugar

3 tablespoons flour

1-4 teaspoon dry mustard

1-4 teaspoon celery salt

1-2 teaspoon salt

1-3 cup vinegar

2-3 cup water

3 cups shredded cabbage

Beat yolks, add dry ingredients.

Mix well and add vinegar and water. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until very thick and creamy. Add cabbage and serve. For variety 1-4 cup chopped pickles, olives, pimentos or green peppers can be added.

Insert dates, nuts or candied fruit

these "surprise bits" are very good served with tea.

"Fortune Teller"

Cast of Carroll

Draws Big Crowd

Of interest to Dixon friends of

Mrs. Charles H. Reynolds, of Waukesha, Wis., formerly Lorna Dement of Dixon (who was a very sweet singer herself) is the article in the Waukesha paper referring to

Miss Avis Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds.

Miss Reynolds attends Carroll College at Waukesha. Miss Reynolds had the role of "Musette" in Victor

Herbert's musical comedy, "The Fortune Teller." Mrs. Reynolds

sends the clipping in a letter to

Mr. W. C. Durkes, a schoolgirl

chum and lifelong friend.

The Waukesha paper had the following to say, in part, about the opera:

Presented with all the military pomp the gypsy color and gaiety

so native to Victor Herbert musical comedy, "The Fortune Teller" operetta offered last night at the Avenue Theater was the first production of its nature at Carroll College

drew a capacity audience of students, Waukesha and college alumni.

Perhaps some of the young

voices in the singing cast were too small and untrained to handle the trilling solos and duets conceived

by Herbert. And again, perhaps the choral and orchestral effect

lacked that fulsome which professional talent lends. But, granted

these things, the large cast which has worked since last September

under the able direction of Mrs. Letitia Jones Hase did a masterful job of handling the technical details of the three-act comic opera.

The routines, the entrances and exits, and the rhythm of the production flowed quite as smoothly as they should have on the legitimate stage.

Fine attention to detail in costuming the ballet dancers, soldiers and gypsies who were barked about the open areas of the stage to form a vivid background for the principals in the important scenes contributed largely to the eye-satisfaction of the spectators.

Musette and Sandor

Two characters, both of whom surmounted their fellow thespians in the mellowness and accuracy of their voices and in the natural ease with which they followed their lines dominated the serious action of the opera. Two others teamed up splendidly to add the deft touch of comedy so necessary to this type of production.

The dramatic parts of Musette, the gypsy girl, and Sandor, her gypsy lover, were well taken by Miss Avis Reynolds and Thomas Graham. Mr. Graham, possessed of a fine baritone voice and admirable stage presence, is no newcomer to Carroll dramatic circles, but the clean-cut rendition of Musette's difficult singing part as well as her coquettish gypsy ways by Miss Reynolds, were a revelation, and a pleasing one, to her hearers.

Miss Louise Schaubel as Irma, the ballet dancer, carried off her part very well, and the comic aspects were handled with just the correct ludicrousness by Jack Warfield as Fresco, the dancing master, and Ralph Mooser as Count Berzowski the acquisitive Polish nobleman.

Marion Koch fell into the gushing role of Mlle. Pompon satisfactorily and Robert Columbus as Boris, Musette's father, was droll as the gypsy leader. Catherine Moore as Vaninke, Eleanor Carlton as Rafael and Arnold Wykhuis as Franz composed the complementing cast. In addition there were lesser parts of General Korbay, Robert Stanfield; Lieut. of Hussars, Phillip Lewis; Corp. of Hussars, Ted Savides; Sergt. of Hussars, Willard Allen; Gardner, Henry Schadeberg; Vera, Grace Muehl; Wanda, Helen Tschanz; Walde-mar, Charles Kiepert; jeweler, Paul Bast; Jan, the tailor's boy, Eloise Frost; Tropical Trio, Lisle Horton, Paul Bast, Arnold Wykhuis.

Assisting Mrs. Hase in the direction were Lorna H. Warfield, Jean Kilgour, Margaret Constance and Fannie Weinstock.

Thirty-third S. S. Army Alumni Banquet E. Jordan Chu.

The Loyal Sunday School Army Alumni of the East Jordan Sunday school held its thirty-third annual banquet on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock at the East Jordan church. There were 90 members present. The members launched on The Good Ship L. S. S. A.

Passports were in charge of Mrs. Isabel Detweiler, treasurer. The Helmsman for the evening was Russell Higley. Asking our Captains Blessing by Chaplain Rev. G. L. McClanathan.

The recruits for 1935 were Mrs.

Belle McDowell, Harry Deets and Cathryn Detweiler.

Thirty were present Wednesday night to enjoy the banquet. The tables were decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's day. A cake decorated with 19 candles was presented to Miss Johnson.

During the meal, music was furnished by Helen Hegert's orchestra, and a song, "How Do You Do," was sung by Elizabeth Hegert; Mrs. Adolph Eichler furnished two readings; Miss Johnson gave an original reading dedicated to the Eichler owners and clerks; Miss Elizabeth Hegert gave a reading and Joe Eichler gave a toast to Miss Johnson.

After the program the group attended the Amboy Theatre. Guests present included Mrs. Adolph Eichler, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Joe and Victor Eichler of Dixon and Miss Edith Vaughan.

Methodist Women's Bible Class Meets

The February meeting of the Woman's Bible class, Methodist church school, was held with Mrs.

Lester Street, N. Jefferson avenue,

Thursday afternoon, with nearly forty in attendance. The singing of a familiar hymn opened the meeting, followed with the devotional service, led by Mrs. W. A. Frey.

After a short business session,

roll-call was responded to with quotations or incidents from famous people born in February and it was interesting to learn that

Longfellow, Lowell, Dickens,

Moody, Edison Susan B. Anthony,

Kreisler, Lindbergh, Patti, Curuso

and Wm. Cody (Buffalo Bill) were among the number.

The program was in charge of

Mrs. H. B. Bills. Two pleasing duets were played by Mrs. E. E. Jacobson and Mrs. Clinton Rorick.

Mrs. Gilbert Stansell sang "The Ships Glide," by Margaret E. Sangster, and two humorous readings were given by Miss Gladys Marth, "The Freckled Face Girl" and "The New Piano."

The entire program was heartily enjoyed by all. A guessing game of bible characters, prepared by Mrs. Bills tested the members' knowledge of the book.

A very interesting letter was read from one of the members, Mrs. Mary Deutsch, who is enjoying the winter in Miami, Fla. The letter and pictures which accompanied it caused much merriment.

During the social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. A. E. Sheffield and her committee.

On March 28th at 1 o'clock, the spring luncheon of the class will be held at the church.

Christiansons Surprised on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Christianson celebrated a wedding anniversary quietly at their home until a party of friends called at their home and assisted them in the happy observance. The guests had with them well filled baskets and a picnic supper was then enjoyed. On departing later all wished the Christiansons many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Warner Hostess at Breakfast

Mrs. H. C. Warner entertained Miss Williamson, National Girl Scout worker and the Girl Scout Council with a breakfast at the Coffee House Thursday morning. At the conclusion of the enjoyable breakfast Miss Williamson gave a delightful and instructive talk on the Brownies, who are the tiny Scouts, the Scout in embryo as it were, and the Girl Scouts.

Setchell-Dinges Wedding in Sublette Church Wednesday

Our Lady of Perpetual Help church of Sublette was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock when Rev. Father Welckamp performed the ceremony, uniting the lives of Miss Edith Setchell of Mendota and Mr. Raymond Dinges of Sublette, in the holy bonds of matrimony at a nuptial high mass.

Mrs. Kenneth Bankes of Minonk, sister of the bride was matron of honor and Wilbert Dinges, a brother of the groom was best man.

The bride was attractively attired in a dress of Roosevelt blue with grey accessories and wore a corsage of roses. Mrs. Bankes wore a navy blue crepe dress with accessories to match. She too wore a corsage of roses.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Setchell of Mendota. She attended the Mendota schools graduating from high school and later attending Normal College. For two years she taught school at Sublette and was teaching in rural schools in this locality for four years.

A MEMORY ENDANGERED

Out in Lake Erie, near Sandusky, O., is a pleasant little island with a remarkable historic tradition—a tradition which the necessities of modern times may presently smash.

The island is Johnson's Island, and from 1861 to 1865 it was a famous prison for Confederate war prisoners. Several hundred Confederate soldiers are buried there; a local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy keeps their graves green and well-tended.

Now it happens that Ohio needs a new state prison.
Its existing prison at Columbus, is out-of-date and overcrowded. And it is proposed to build the new one on Johnson's Island.

The Daughters of the Confederacy are protesting—and one can hardly blame them. This picturesque and lovely little island is at present an ideal memorial to the southern lads who died far from their homes.

Putting a penitentiary there would certainly provide an unpleasant break in the island's tradition.

INTELLIGENCE IN TESTS

The intelligence test is one of the great features of modern life. Sometimes, though, one wishes that those who use it could use a little more intelligence in re-pounding their questions.

A psychiatrist "tested" a Buffalo boy recently. He asked him to tell the similarity between a snake, a cow, and a sparrow; the boy replied that none of them could talk.

Then he asked the boy what he should do when he found he was going to be late for school; the boy said,
"Think up an excuse."

Now the funny part about it is that from the psychiatrist's viewpoint both of these answers were wrong—
although any ordinary mortal would find them pretty sensible answers to rather peculiar questions.

Tests which give the subject zeros for answers as intelligent as these cannot, properly, be called intelligence tests at all.

MORALE FOR RELIEF

The man who is on the relief rolls needs a smoke, now and then, as well as something to eat; and relief authorities at Cleveland, O., are requesting state relief auditors to permit them to put in requisitions for cigars
as well as for foodstuffs.

This development occurred after someone had protested that recipients of relief had no business asking for smokes. The county relief chairman retorted instantly that "in some cases a package of cigars will do more good than food of equal value."

There is good sense to this attitude. It is important to preserve the morale of the jobless man; and for some reason being entirely without anything to smoke ruins morale about as quickly as anything.

A few cigars can sometimes revive a man's spirits
more than a whole cauldron of soup.

LIGHT ON THE CITY BUSINESS

The city of Cedar Falls, Ia., is planning to spend some $300,000 this year for all purposes. To meet these expenditures, it will have to levy only about $18,000 in taxes. Why? Because its municipal light, gas, and water plants are returning profits of better than $280,000.

It is just a little bit hard to think of any very good comeback to this little argument, somehow. Cedar Falls citizens are going to get along this year without any general taxes. They will pay no taxes for sewers, lights, gas, cemetery, fire, or hospital purposes.

Their only municipal taxes will be a levy of 2.262
mils for library, park board, and comfort station operation.

It might be difficult to persuade these Cedar Falls folk that municipal ownership of utilities is an unsound idea.

DAILY HEALTH

BURNS TREATMENT

The competent treatment of burns may be said to date from 1925, when Dr. E. C. Davidson, of Detroit, first advocated the use of tannic acid. Formerly the mortality from serious burns was as high as 40 per cent. Today deaths due to burns of a serious nature have been reduced to 25 per cent of what they were formerly.

In the treatment of burns, tannic acid solutions of from 2½ to 5 per cent are commonly employed. This treatment has the advantages of causing a coagulation of the serum and proteins in the regions where the burn has destroyed the skin and underlying tissues. This coagulation fixes the proteins so that they are little if at all absorbed into the body. If absorbed they prove poisonous.

The coagulated, scab-like covering also serves as a protecting membrane for the tissues underneath. Pain is substantially reduced, and the loss of moisture is limited.

Since this treatment was first instituted, it has been subjected to several important modifications.
Thus, whereas formerly the tannic acid was applied in the form of bandages, today it is most commonly applied as a spray. In order to prevent, so far as possible, the development of infections beneath the coagulated layer, a variety of antiseptic solutions have been added to the tannic acid. Gentian violet, an antiseptic dye, and acriflavine,
have proved useful.

Industrially, one interesting development has been reported in Connecticut, where workers who have been burned are immersed in tannic acid baths. This bath treatment, in which the burned patient is kept for as long as three hours, assures the prompt application of tannic acid, and facilitates the cleansing of the wound and the removal of destroyed tissue and other forms of debris.

Another improvement in the fact that the public has begun to appreciate that burns represent a serious type of injury to be treated promptly.

cried. "Some day we'll teach you how to ride." The giant smiled and said, "They're just as game as they can be."

"I only wish that I was small.
You see, I cannot ride at all, because that crazy hound of mine is much too small for me."

Just then wee Scouty shouted,
"Hey! A big peach tree is in our way. Before we walk around it, I suggest we stop and eat."

"I'll climb the trees and then I'll shake some branches. I'm sure that will make enough of that fine fruit
to give all of us a treat."

The giant smiled and said, "Why, lad, you need not bother. I'll be glad to bring the fruit down. Watch me, now, and all get set to duck!"
He pushed the tree. His strength was rare, and fruit came falling everywhere. Each Tiny grabbed a peach and Scouty shouted, "Yum!
What luck!"

Real shortly they were on their way, and soon they heard the giant say, "Well, there's my house, ahead of us." "What! That place?" Windy cried.

"Why it's as small as it can be.
The door's just big enough for me.
Please tell me, if you can, how you ever get inside."

The giant said, "I show you soon, just how my entering is done. I do it every day and, really, it's not hard at all."

And then with quiet apparent-ness, the big man dropped down to his knees. It made all of the Tines laugh when he began to crawl.

Small Schools Must Win Birthrights in Opening Round Tournament Tests

Ohio Tops Field of Midgets in First Round Play

Amboy high, carving its way toward district title honors, disposed of three more regularly scheduled opponents last week by defeating Mendota, Morrison and Oregon. Only Polo remains before the district meet in which Amboy advances directly into the second round on a bye. Other small schools must settle differences among themselves before advancing.

The south Lee county quint increased its prestige immeasurably by its victory over Mendota, an N. C. I. conference opponent. All eyes will be on Amboy in the tournament as the villagers are rated one of the tournament's chief dark horses. Dixon was booked to meet Mendota on the latter's court Thursday night.

Small Schools Must Collide

Although none of the smaller schools aside from Amboy are at present conceded much of a chance to win the title, many of them are generally strong tournament competition and have been known to seize the crown regardless of advance predictions. The smaller schools in the lists this year are Franklin Grove, Compton, Harmon, Tampico, Walnut, Lee Center and Ohio. Of these seven, Ohio is perhaps the most formidable. The Ohio team closed its 1934-35 season against Tiskilwa by subduing that club 25 to 14 last week. Compton ought to be a good match for Harmon. Both schools are three-year high schools and are about the same size. Walnut and Tampico should furnish a colorful first round battle among the midgets. Lee Center is the underdog against Ohio, but may surprise. Mendota is heavily favored to brush aside Franklin Grove.

When the dwarfs have settled their first round differences their continued prestige in the eyes of sports writers will depend on their ability to survive the second round in which the four first round winners must face Rock Falls, Dixon, Sterling and Amboy. Should any of the tiny schools fell one of these giants, their rating as the outstanding dark horse of the tournament would be secure.

SIR MALCOLM ALMOST READY FOR SPEED RUN

Waves Pounding Beach Into Shape For Bluebird Car

Daytona Beach, Fla., Mar. 1—(AP)—Wind and water finally have switched to the side of Sir Malcolm Campbell, and there was every indication today the British speed king would be able to point the nose of his giant Bluebird at her own 272.108 mile an hour record, and tread his foot to the floor by the week end.

There was even a slight possibility that Sir Malcolm, eager and keen now that the long wait is almost over, might make a test run today after "Wild Bill" Cummings, Indianapolis champion last year, takes his Diesel car out on the back for a shot at the 125 mile an hour record for that type motor set here almost two weeks ago by Dave Evans, another race track pilot.

The beach was not ready today for any more than a leisurely spin at say 175 miles an hour, Campbell admitted last night after he rode up and down the 1 1/2 mile strand at low tide in his private car. Low tide is 9:30 A. M. C. S. T. today.

NO CHALLENGES IN SPEED BOAT TROPHY IN 1935

Three Nations May Try For It In 1936 Though

Detroit, March 1—(AP)—The Harmsworth Trophy, bronze symbol of international speed boat supremacy, remains in the United States for another year without a challenge, but 1936 may find England, Italy and a new crop of American racers seeking the famous plaque.

Gar Wood, who has beaten every foreign Harmsworth challenger since 1920 is the present holder of the trophy, but J. Lee Barrett, the secretary of the Yachtsman's Association of America said he expected a revival of "formidable competition" next year.

As the deadline passed last night Barrett said no one challenged Wood for the trophy he won in 1920 when he defeated Sir Mackay Edgar's Maple Leaf off the Isle of Wight.

"I sent a message to Wood in Miami," said Barrett, "extending the congratulations of the Yachtsman's Association. We did not expect to receive a challenge this year, although we once received a challenge cable at the eleventh hour."

"I believe formidable competition for the Harmsworth Trophy will be revived next year. I feel confident England will renew its challenge, and in Italy they are experimenting with a 2900 horsepower motor which we may see in the next challenge race. There are several American racers who may enter the next race."

ROCKNE TO BE REMEMBERED BY ALUMNI GROUP

Ceremony Planned at Death Scene in Kansas

Kansas City, March 1—(AP)—Notre Dame's immortal "Rock" will be honored by loyal sons scattered from coast to coast on the birth anniversary of the great football coach next Monday, March 4.

Young Billy Rockne will place a wreath on the monument marking the spot in the Flint hills of Kansas near Cottonwood Falls, where Knute Rockne and seven others plummeted to death with a crippled air liner on the gloomy morning of March 31, 1931.

Accompanying Billy will be an alumni group including Larry Mullins, the last Rockne fullback and now athletic director of St. Benedict's college, where Billy is a student, and Dr. D. M. (Mike) Nigro of Kansas City, friend of Rockne, who fathered the plan to hold nationwide memorial banquets on Rockne's birthday, starting this year.

Alumni Respond
Alumni groups all over the country responded to Nigro's suggestion. In a sheaf of letters endorsing the idea are signatures of Father John F. O'Hara, president of Notre Dame; Elmer Layden, one of the immortal "Four Horsemen," now the head coach at South Bend; Tom Lieb, athletic director of Loyola, New Orleans; and the rank and file of Notre Dame alumni.

Among more than a score of cities from which responses have come are: Minneapolis, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Peoria, Ironwood, Mich., New York, Davenport, Ia., Los Angeles, New Orleans, Chicago, Fort Wayne, Ind., Port Townsend, Wash., South Bend, Bethlehem, Pa., Cincinnati, Sioux City, Great Falls, Mont., Columbus, O., Green Bay, Phoenix, Ariz., Atchison, Kas., Gary, Ind., and Portland, Ore.

From Louis P. Chute, Minneapolis, Notre Dame (90-92) who describes himself as a sub-amateur at football, to young '35, who never met Rockne, they will turn out to pay solemn tribute to the leader. Rockne's classmates, who answered the call include James B. O'Flynn, Great Falls, Mont.

C. W. Bader, Gary, Ind. and E. M. Starrett, Port Townsend, Wash. both suggested the Rockne birthday celebration should be merged with the universal Notre Dame night, which usually is set in Mid-April. Commemorative masses are said on the anniversary of Rockne's death in many cities, including Los Angeles, where Protestants and Catholics alike pay tribute, and South Bend, where a special mass has been the order the last three years.

Recalling his last talk with Rockne, Leo B. Ward, Los Angeles attorney, suggests "a Rockne scholarship fund started now for the benefit of his own children and possibly perpetuated for the benefit of other boys of the type liked by Rockne."

SPRINGFIELD IS FAVORITE; PREP CROWN

Quincy Certain to Abdicate Title This Year

This is the final of a series on the state high school basketball championship tournament.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Champaign, March 1—(AP)—With every member of last year's title five gone, Quincy is not predicting a state championship for itself this year. The Blue Boys from the west may get as far as the state tournament, but it is generally agreed that a new champion will be crowned there.

But who will take Quincy's place? Any number of teams stand ready to do so, but of them all Springfield seems to have a slight edge.

There are several reasons for Springfield's superiority. The Solons have height, speed, and skill. Their center and two forwards are each six-foot in height, and their guards stand five-ten and five-eleven. Nowhere in the state is there another team to match that.

To top the enormous height advantage, Springfield has some expert ball handlers, a great center in Scheffler, and a first class guard in Peaman. The Solons no longer use their famous slow break out work the ball in for setup shots regularly instead of outwaiting the defense. They are unbeaten in their last 18 games and only against Peoria Manual, during that streak, were they forced to extend themselves.

Granite City Powerful

Granite City, with a late winning streak of 14 straight victories, looms powerful in the southwest. So does Edwardsville, which has a strict zone defense that will slow down any offense.

Mt. Carmel and Mt. Vernon have shown that they can score around 40 points per game, but it is hard to see how either of these teams can combat the northern and central leaders because Mt. Carmel and Mt. Vernon are so weak defensively.

Johnston City is small but clever. Eldorado, which over-whelmed Johnston City, 33-20, at their last meeting features a six-foot five-inch center, Tyson, and his teammates are no midgets, either.

Noble is small and quick, while Flat Rock and St. Francisville drive hard for that basket. Flat Rock handles the ball as well as any team, and so does Lebanon.

In general it is noted that the northern and central teams are all of the big, rangy type, while the southern brides are smaller but perhaps faster. It will be interesting to see how these teams stack up when they meet each other in intersectional play.

Reynolds Holds Decision

14,000 Bowlers Assembling For Annual Tourney

Syracuse, N. Y., March 1—(AP)—The vanguard of 14,000 bowlers from all parts of the country who will bowl in the 35th annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress, opening tonight, arrived in Syracuse today.

The tournament will be held in the state armory where 24 newly constructed alleys valued at more than $32,000 and 2,800 sets of pins valued at $25,000 are ready for the bowlers.

The tournament will have a record of 2,837 teams in the five-man event, of which 1,206 were recruited from Syracuse and the adjacent territory; 3,419 pairs in the two-man events and 6,889 in the singles.

The Dixon Telegraph now in its 84th year—is one of the very oldest papers in Illinois.

1934-35 season. Regardless of whether the Ponies chalk up another win, or drop their first tilt of the season, they have the lightweight championship of the North Central Area clinched. Their nearest foe is DeKalb with two losses.

Firm Hold on Third

Dixon majors will be gunning the Mendota regulars in their last game of the conference circuit. The Sharpshooters have a firm hold on third place in the Conference standings. They are exactly in the same strong-hold position as the lights, for whether in victory or defeat, they will not drop from the division they now hold. There is one possibility that exists, in which the Sharpshooters may move up another notch and be in a tie with Sterling for second place honors. Sterling has six victories and three defeats; tonight they play Rochelle in the "Hubs" gym. Dixon has five victories and four losses, if the Sharpshooters come through at Mendota, and Sterling loses to Rochelle. The cities between which the most athletic rivalry exist in Northern Illinois will be a deadlock for second honors of the N. C. I. C. This situation is possible, and in such a case the old rivals will have to wait until the tournament to battle it out.

Mendota Lurches

Mendota has not won a conference game this year, and has not clinched very many victories outside of the loop. Their team is short and only two regulars from last year's five are available for this quintet. At Dixon, Mendota put up a game fight and caught the Sharpshooters on an off night. The final score ended up at 25-23. Dixon, but it was one of the toughest battles that the Sharpshooters engaged in this year. What Mendota will do on their own floor is hard to say, they may be hot, and then again they may stay in their usual stride the very bad habit of dropping conference games.

Probable lineups:

Dixon	Heavies	Mendota
Underwood		Tower
Planagan
or Evans	F	Virgil
Rebuck	C	Faber
Fane	G	Whitmore
Durkes	G	Gilkey
	Lights
Klein	F	Rogers
Boyd	F	Nikdorf
Tilton	C	Marmion
Miller	G	Shapiro
Krug	G	Cook
Ankeny	G	Dubbs

P. G. A. TOURNEY WILL ADMIT 64 INSTEAD OF 32

Plan To Give Vets Better Chance To Gain Match

New York, March 1—(AP)—The professionals' championship—one of golf's longest and toughest grinds—will admit 64 players instead of the customary 32 to play this year. The first two rounds of man-to-man conflict will be reduced from 36 to 18 holes.

These changes were announced today by George R. Jacobus, president of the Professional Golfers' association. By increasing the number of qualifiers the P. G. A. hopes to make the grade easier for veterans like Walter Hagen to gain the match play.

Far in the background, too, there is the remote prospect that the members of the invading British Ryder Cup team, who will play an American group late in September at the Ridgewood (N. J.) Country Club will stay for the professional championship.

In the event all or some of the Britishers desire to play in the tournament it is likely the P. G. A. will waive the necessity of their competing in sectional qualifying rounds such as American pros do annually a few weeks before the tournament.

Under the new system the championship will start October 14 at the Twin Hills club in Oklahoma City with a 36-hole medal play qualifying round. After the two 18-hole rounds of match play will come four rounds at 36 holes, with the finals on Sunday, Oct. 20.

Rowe Expects His Contract Trouble to Be Alleviated

El Dorado, Ark., March 1—(AP)—Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe of the Detroit Tigers expects a quick termination of his contract troubles after he reaches the club's Lakeland, Fla., spring training camp.

Declaring himself in the best of condition, the big Arkansas hurler left yesterday for Florida in response to a call from Detroit officials for an early arrival to talk over contract terms.

The Schoolboy was said several weeks ago to have been offered $8,500 in his first contract which he declined in the hope of negotiating toward the $12,500.

ROCK VALLEY PREP LEAGUE PLANS YEAR

Football Schedule For 1935 Drawn Up This Week

Officials of the Rock Valley high school conference denied this week reports that schools were intending to withdraw from the circuit. The annual meeting to elect officers and frame 1935 schedules was held in Polo and much satisfaction with the results was expressed.

Officers for 1935-36 were named as follows:

President: W. I. DeWees, Amboy; Vice President: Ray L. Akey, Rock Falls. The football trophy for 1934 was awarded Rock Falls, and literary, musical and commercial events of the conference were postponed for one more year. The annual conference track and field meet will be held in Rock Falls, Saturday, May 4. Supervising the arrangements is Ray Akey. The football schedule for 1935 was approved and officials hired the past year were again chosen by the conference.

The Schedule Staff

The football schedule follows:

October 5—Polo at Amboy; Mt. Morris at Oregon; Morrison at Rock Falls.

October 12—Rock Falls at Amboy; Oregon at Morrison; Polo at Mt. Morris.

October 26—Amboy at Morrison; Rock Falls at Mt. Morris and Oregon at Polo.

November 2—Mt. Morris at Amboy; Rock Falls at Oregon and Morrison at Polo.

November 9—Mt. Morris at Morrison; Amboy at Oregon and Polo at Rock Falls.

Rock Falls has booked an extensive non-conference schedule also. The Falls eleven invades Dixon September 21, and entertains Sterling Community at home Sept. 28. On Thanksgiving Day Sterling Township tackles Rock Falls in their annual classic. A game with Lyons, Ia. has also been negotiated for.

After you have that auto accident do you not wish you had one of the Dixon Telegraph's Accident $10,000 Accident Insurance Policy. It costs but $1.40 for a year's protection.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Walter Warren, Pastor.
Quinquagesima Sunday.
8:00 A. M. Early worship. We continue our commendation of the growing numbers at this early service. However, it is not hindering the attendance at the regular service of 10:45 A. M.
9:30 A. M. Bible school. A fine regular and enlarging increase over a year ago is noticed. This is the teacher's opportunity. Every minute should be used with enthusiasm.

10:45 A. M. Regular Divine Worship. Every believer, for the sake of his life, must have the atmosphere, the devotion, the united praise of the church worship. He will die for want of fellowship and contact by staying away and neglecting this prime need.

3:00 P. M. The Junior Luther League. We rejoice in having this fine group of Juniors who meet for praise and worship. It prepares these children for larger place in church life and for leadership among the youth of the church. We want every boy and girl of the church and their friends in this happy and helpful work.

7:00 P. M. Senior Luther League. There could be no better way of spending Sunday evening than associating with the youth of the church in a meeting for young people. It is open to all. A special program for this coming Sunday is being prepared.

Week-day meetings:
Monday 7:30 P. M. Regular monthly meeting of the Church Council.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 7:30 P. M. in the First Methodist church we join in the Lenten services with other Protestant churches of the city. Dr. John Timothy Stone, president of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Chicago will be the preacher.

Thursday 2:30 P. M. Ladies Aid meets at the church.

Saturday 2:00 P. M. Confirmation class meets.
You are cordially invited to all our appointments.

MONTGOMERY WARD

BABE UPSET BY TESTIMONIAL DINNER TALK

Adams Says McKechnie
Is Still Boss for Brave Nine

Boston, March 1.—(AP)—The job of managing the Boston Braves is Babe Ruth's when and if he knows he can handle it.

That was what the Babe heard from Charles F. Adams, first vice-president and controlling stockholder of the Braves, at a dinner last night at which the homerun king was welcomed back to Boston.

Adams made it clear the Babe would not outrank Bill McKechnie, present manager of the Braves, for he said that if Ruth succeeds to the managership McKechnie will become an executive of the club "with full power to represent the interests I control."

Ruth's arrival in Boston was the signal for a demonstration rivaling those on the last appearances here of President Roosevelt and Al Smith. The dinner that followed was attended by sports writers and the hundreds of National League club's minority stockholders.

Called Frank "Bill McKechnie was frank, honest and correct when he said 'there can only be one boss,'" Adams declared. "Any of us that knows anything about successful organizations realize how sound is such a statement."

"I certainly hope that the Babe realizes his ambition and that he will merit the position he has so much desired."

"He must learn to be a good soldier, if he is not one already. He must by his own example create loyalty and respect within and without the club. This having been established, there is little doubt that the Babe will merit the best the club has to offer."

"Now about Bill McKechnie. That there be no misunderstanding, he too, if the Babe can successfully fill his shoes, will be promoted, and like the Babe, too, I believe, will experience that the higher up you go, the tougher the job, the more responsibility, consequently, the more worry and sleepless nights."

Ruth, who came here with the definite understanding that he would manage the Braves in 1936, if not sooner, appeared a bit taken back by Adams' frank talk, as did everyone else in the audience.

"Bill McKechnie is a gentleman who does everything he can for baseball," the Babe told the diners. "He is the manager and I am sure we are going to get along just as well. If he asks for any advice from me, I will give it gladly."

Still Years for A. Loop "Although I have signed a contract with the Braves, I cannot truthfully say that I am glad to be out of the American League."

"I have had many thrills during my 21 years in baseball but three stand out clearly I will never forget the thrill that came when I hit that homer in the 1932 world series at Chicago. The Lord was with me that day when I called my shot."

"Never will I forget that wonderful ovation I received when I played my last game in Fenway Park. I cried about it when I got into the clubhouse. But the reception I received this afternoon at the Back Bay station touched my heart. I can't go on for ever. I don't want to play until I drop, but I will until I almost drop."

Chicago Preps In Qualifying Trials for Swimming Meet

Chicago, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Maine Township high, the defending champion, University high and Roosevelt, both of Chicago, were favored today as qualifying trials for places in the fourth annual state interscholastic swimming title meet opened at Northwestern University.

Roosevelt's hope was Aloph Kiefer, a sensational youngster who has bettered world backstroke records.

Band in Coveralls Symbolizes Labor at Dedication

The usual touch of symbolism was given the dedication of the new Labor building in Washington when the United Mine Workers band from West Virginia appeared, clad in coveralls, to supply the music for the event. Here the miners are shown as they dispensed melody, with even the conductor wearing overalls as he swings his baton.

Also swim in the free style events in fast time. Maine and University high relied on team balance to offset Kiefer's first place potentialities.

U. S. Bombers Ready for Long Dash

A 10,000-mile flight including a 1100-mile overwater hop and a possible non-stop return jump from Panama to Washington, D. C., lay ahead of 29 U. S. Army fliers as their commander, Captain Harold D. Smith, outlined the route as shown in the top photo. In the 10 giant Martin bombers shown being made ready in the lower photo, 15 officers and 14 enlisted men were to fly from their base at San Diego to Washington, then to Miami, and in a final overwater hop to Panama. The map indicates approximate distances without showing exact routes or stops.

Floats as Italy's Challenge

Symbolic of Mussolini's aspirations in Africa is this flag-raising in Eritrea, Italian colony on the Red Sea coast. Fluttering from its lofty staff, as Italian officers stand at salute and native soldiery present arms, the green, red, and white banner flaunts a challenge across the borders to Abyssinia, where the black troops of Haile Selassie stand as a bar to further European conquest.

COLLEGE DAYS ARE OBSERVED AT DIXON HIGH

Students Interview Representatives of Colleges

Representatives from sixteen colleges were interviewed by Dixon high school students in the second College Day in as many weeks. College Day in the Dixon High School has been held annually for the past three years and since their inception have proved a great success. Professor B. J. Frazer, high school principal said Thursday noon. Over 350 interviews have been granted representatives of the various colleges the past two Thursdays.

Dixon high prepares its seniors for the coming of the representatives by setting aside a week in advance, the dates for the annual interviews indicating those dates as College Days. In the meantime literature from the several colleges invited to send representatives, is obtained, and distributed among the students. The week previous is spent in arranging interviews at convenient hours between students and the representatives of colleges they feel they are interested in.

CHAR-DON-IGRAMS

BY CHAR-DON

At last! We knew it was coming, but were not quite sure just when. "Hector" has favored us with one of his hoped for contributions, all of which proves this venturesome column is scanned occasionally. Here is what he says and it's ingenious:

"I think your column is quite nice. It's worth a nickel at half price. But where's your wit and where's your humor
At least you might well start a rumor.

"If in a constant perturbation You write on affairs of the nation Twice be just as boring for us As twice spoken tales of Horace.

"If mugglywumps and wimpoopant-zas Take form to create their stanzas Then you can readily use your eyes To scout around and generalize." Hector

And to Hector we reply:

"Your contribution we enjoy And your advice we might employ Perchance you may have a suggestion.

What we should write—that is the question.

"For boredom, plans you might devise To coax from our readers a rise, A panacea for their ills, Of clever words instead of pills.

"As for wit and spely humor 'Twould bore you worse than groundless rumor At least in idiotic style In hopes our audience might smile.

"The middle class, the rich, the poor, King, prince, beggar, thief, and boor, To all we wish our weekly lore on, Intelligent, or feeble moron.

"But never let it e'er be said That on the helpless we did tread That sarcasm or petty slams Were printed in Char-Don-Igrams."

IN A LIGHTER VEIN

"There's almost always a tie between father and son—and the son usually wears it."

"It's embarrassing when the man who tells the joke laughs louder and longer than you can."

Mother Shipton's prophecy is known the world over. It is perhaps the most famous prophecy in all history. Moreover, the events she predicted have come true with the exception of the last one. The world has not yet come to an end. Mother Shipton's prophecy is said to have been published originally in the fifteenth century. For its publication, she was burned at the stake as a witch. Here is what she said:

"Carriages without horses shall go, And accidents fill the world with woe, Around the world thoughts shall fly In the twinkling of an eye, Waters shall yet more wonders do; Now strange but shall be true, The world upside down shall be, And gold be found at root of tree, Through the hills men shall ride, And no horse or donkey by his side, Under water men shall walk, Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk, In the air men shall be seen, In white, in black, in green, As easy as a wooden boat, Gold shall be found, and found, In a land that's not now known, Fire and water shall wonders do, England shall at last admit a Jew, The world to an end shall come In eighteen hundred and eighty-one."

Grounds for Divorce
Olivia Dionne is reported seeking a divorce because his wife is overbearing.

FINANCIAL
"It is the time of bigger and better debts."

"Some cause happiness wherever they go; others whenever they go."

"Some middle-aged sissies go to bed with a bad cold while the big tough he-men stick it out and are survived by a wife and five children."

"We want to thank the Treasury Department for forwarding to us the usual complimentary tax blanks for incomes in excess of $5,000.00."

SILKEN SPINDLES

by Laura Lou Brookman

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GALE HENDERSON, pretty and 25, works in a silk mill. She and her 19-year-old brother, PHIL, support their invalid father.

STEVE MEYERS, who also works in the mill, asks Gale to marry him. She delays giving her answer.

Gale goes skating, breaks through the ice and is rescued by BRIAN WESTMORE, whose father, now dead, built the mill. Brian has come home after two years in Paris, ready to take his place in the mill.

VICKY THATCHER, daughter of ROBERT THATCHER, general manager of the mill, schemes to capture Brian. She sees him with Gale and is furious. Convinced to meet Gale, she tells him that she (Vicky) and Brian are engaged to be married. Gale, believing Brian has been amusing himself at her expense, is deeply hurt. She refuses to see him again.

Gale goes to a dance with Steve. Phil is there and bursts into a denunciation of the mill bosses. Next day he is fired.

MARY CASSIDY and her two children are evicted from their home and Gale takes them in.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVIII

VICKY THATCHER closed the door behind her. She stood there for an instant—a picture in the frock of flame color against the ivory door.

She said to the young man waiting, "Are you surprised to see me?"

"Why, yes, rather," Brian told her. "I thought your father wanted to see me. They told me there was a message."

Vicky crossed the room. "The message said Father wanted to see you here," she informed him. "I know all about it. I ought to—because I sent it."

"You sent the message! But why?"

"Because I wanted to be sure you'd come," Vicky went on. "It's been such a long time since you've been here, Brian. Almost ages. And you're never at the club any more."

"I've been busy."

"Really?"

"Well—yes. And that crowd at the club sort of gets on my nerves."

"Let's sit down," Vicky said. She put a hand on his arm and led him to the davenport. "Now then—cigaret?"

There was a bowl of frezias on the table across the room and the fragrance of the flowers came to them. Vicky held the silver box toward Brian and he took a cigarette. She helped herself. When the two cigarettes were glowing she said quietly, "So it's just as I thought."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean something's bothering you," she informed him. "I was afraid that was it. I hoped it was something I could help about."

BRIAN smiled. "That's awfully decent of you, Vicky, but there's nothing the matter."

"Oh, but there is! There's no use trying to pretend with me, Brian, because I know. I could tell the minute I saw you. Something's happened that's hurt you."

"Everybody gets hurt now and then, don't they?"

Red Ormsby's One Up on Daddy Dionne

Without the advantage of quintuplets, Emmett T. (Red) Ormsby, veteran American League umpire, is one up on Olivia Dionne, who has a family of 10. Mrs. Ormsby recently gave birth to her seventh child, and here is the happy family gathered in its Chicago home. Mrs. Ormsby is holding Jonathan, 3, and Esther, the latest arrival. In rear left to right, are Helen, 9; Rita, 12; Papa Ormsby, holding Nancy, 2; Byron, 7; Rose Marie, 11; Emmett, Jr., 8; Dolores, 6; Edward, 5, and Robert, 4.

"I suppose so," the girl said, "but I don't want it to happen to you. I couldn't stand that. You've done so many things for me and—well, I just thought if there was any way I could help I wanted to."

Brian covered her hand with his. "You're a sweet kid, Vicky," he said. "You wouldn't let a fellow down, would you?"

"What do you mean?"

"Nothing, nothing at all—only I think you're one of the squarest, sweetest girls in the world. I think you're great and I'm glad you asked me to come over tonight. You're right about it—I've been staying too much by myself. Moping. From now on it's going to be different. You and I are going to have fun together."

TWO hours later Vicky knocked on the door of her father's bedroom. Robert Thatcher called, "Come in!"

Vicky pushed the door open. She wore a dressing gown of gold satin with a froth of lace about the neck. Her sandals were nothing more than jeweled straps. Vicky came into the room, trailing the long dressing gown behind her.

Her father looked up from the book he was reading. He said, "Home early, aren't you?"

"I've been home all evening, Brian was here."

"Oh—Brian!" Thatcher looked pleased. He put the book aside, smiled up at his daughter.

Vicky went on, "I'm driving over to Hamilton with him to dinner tomorrow evening. And Saturday, we're going to the Eldredge dance. Sunday we're going to look up some friends of his in Brookfield."

"Well, that's fine."

Vicky lingered. She said, "Your birthday is next month, isn't it? I was thinking about a birthday present for you and wondering how you'd like it."

"Now, Vicky, you know I don't care much about presents. There isn't anything I want."

"But this is a sort of special present," she persisted, smiling faintly. "Something you've never had. I was wondering how you'd like to have a—son-in-law."

"You mean—Brian?"

Vicky nodded. There was a light in her eyes that was eager and at the same time assured. "I'm sure he'll propose by that time," she went on softly. "He might have tonight, only I wouldn't let him. I don't want to hurry things too much. It's better to let him worry a little."

Thatcher was beaming. "Smart girl," he said. "Vicky, there's nothing in the world that would please me more. It's the marriage I've hoped you'd make. If you marry Brian I'll give you, the finest trousseau money can buy. I'll give you anything you want for a wedding present. Anything!"

A shrewd look came into the girl's face. "Anything," she repeated. "Is that a promise?"

"Do you think she heard?" (To Be Continued)

"Yes."

Vicky moved toward the door. "Don't forget," she said softly. "And you'd better be prepared to keep it."

GALE and Josie Gridley sat on the couch in the women's cloak room. It was noon and most of the mill employees were in the cafeteria, but Gale and Josie had brought lunches from home. They had finished their sandwiches and now sat waiting for the bell to ring.

Josie said, "But you can't keep Mary and those two children. With Phil out of work you can't do it!"

"They'll stay the rest of the week. After that they're going to Mary's cousin. I don't know how long she can keep them. It's dreadful, isn't it—not even having a roof over your head."

"It's Fisher's fault!" Josie said vehemently. "He could have kept Mary on if he'd wanted to."

"I certainly wish he'd give her her job back."

"Well, he won't! You know that as well as I do. Firing more all the time—that's what they're doing instead of taking anyone on. Do you know what I think? I think they put Mary out of her house to scare the rest of us. Hawley got a notice this morning; did you know that? And there's lots of others whose rent is back. I think they're trying to scare us all, but it isn't working that way. Oh, there may be some who fall for it—but you know about the meeting tonight, don't you?"

Gale nodded. "Yes."

"Are you going?"

"Yes," Gale said. "I am. I didn't think this organization meant much until I saw what happened to Mary yesterday. Phil's talked about it a lot but—well, there doesn't seem to be any other way now. We've got to stand up for each other. The bosses do treat us like slaves and they think we haven't any rights. I'm tired of having my pay cut for being late when I haven't been. And I'm tired of working twice as hard as we used to for less money."

"Good for you!" Josie's face was shining, eager. "I'm getting everybody I can to go. It's a protest meeting, you know, about these evictions—"

There was a sound across the room. Josie's words died on her lips and both girls sat motionless. The sound was repeated and then a head appeared from behind a row of lockers. A head that was light brown, set in glossy waves. A moment more and a figure emerged. It was Leota Bolter.

Leota said, smiling, "Hello." Josie answered, "Hello, Leota," and got to her feet. She said, "Come on, Gale. It's time we were going—"

Outside the door the two girls faced each other. Both asked the same question: "Do you think she heard?" (To Be Continued)

SAN DIEGO SETS THE STAGE FOR THE BIGGEST FAIR OF 1935

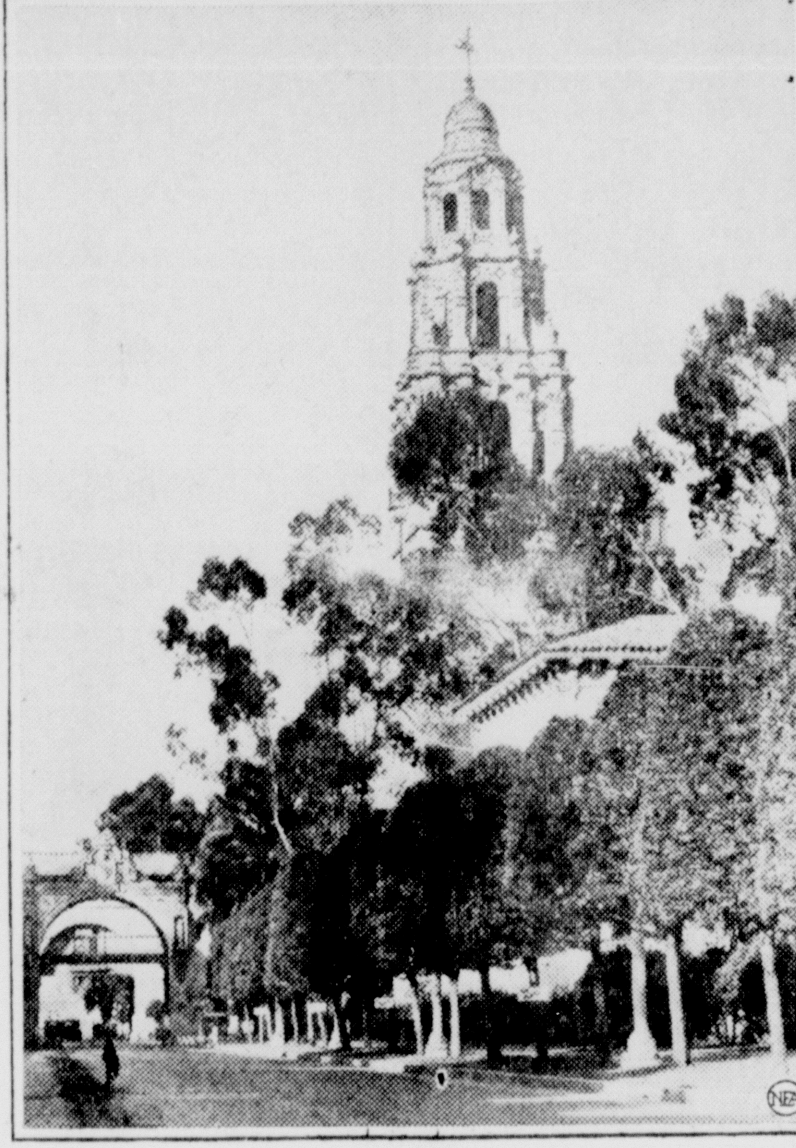

'Four Centuries of Progress' to Pass in Review at Exposition, Depicting Advances Since Cabrillo Landed

Restful and rustic in contrast to the hastily built grounds of most "fairs" the California Pacific International Exposition being made ready at San Diego has the advantage of location in the city's permanent Balboa Park. Here is a lily pond in one of the spacious courts of the grounds.

A more natural and romantic setting for a great exposition would be hard to imagine. This air view of the buildings and exposition grounds, half hidden in the natural reaches of Balboa Park in San Diego, gives some hint of the natural beauty available for landscaping. The city of San Diego may be seen in the background. Encircling the park, the city also extends beneath and behind the plane from which this picture was taken.

Magnificent trees half hide the buildings of the California Pacific International Exposition planned for the coming summer at San Diego. Here is the Tower of the Science of Man rising above the tree-tops and one of the entrance gates to the exposition grounds.

HARMON NEWS

Harmon-San Elgin was a caller in Sterling Thursday.

The Harmon Community club members held a business meeting Thursday evening at the school. Homer Welch presided and named committees for the year. Mrs. J. C. Wadsworth was named chairman for the entertainment committee; Mary Witmore to prepare for a basket social. After the business meeting E. H. Tobey of Sterling gave the address.

William Stonesifer received word Thursday that his mother, Mrs. Mary Stonesifer who was 86 years of age had passed away. She had been bedfast about eight weeks before her death and five weeks ago fractured her hip. Since then her condition has been serious. Besides her son William, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elmer Hess, Miss Alberta Stonesifer, and Mrs. Ora Harden of Humboldt, S. Dak.

Mrs. Martin McDermott's nephew Martin McDermott of Freeport, formerly of Harmon, sang and whistled over station WROK Saturday evening. We are all waiting to hear him broadcast again.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25¢ at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Offer Prizes for Essays on Business Firms

DIXON PEOPLE ARE INVITED TO READ "PRIZE ESSAY STORIES" AND WIN CASH AWARDS

A contest, the object of which is to acquaint the people of the local trading territory with the service facilities of their business institutions begins today in The Dixon Evening Telegraph in the form of news stories. The contest offers cash prizes to successful contestants for the most interesting essays turned in to the contest editor.

A number of stories, describing the products or service facilities of reputable institutions of Dixon appear in this issue, affording people of Dixon and vicinity the opportunity to enter the contest. Three dollar cash awards are offered to the winners, whose efforts will be judged for accuracy, skill of composition and originality.

Here are the Rules

1. Read each of the several stories in this issue. They can be easily found, as each story ends with a question pertaining to the service of the firm about which the story is written.

2. This is not a guessing contest, and the questions are phrased so that the correct answers can only be obtained from the firm. Each contestant will be given identical answers.

3. In addition to compiling the right answers to all questions you must write an essay of not more than 100 words on any of the firms mentioned.

4. Send your list of answers and essay not later than 6 P. M. of the second day following publication of the stories to the Prize Essay Story Editor of The Dixon Evening Telegraph.

Have Trucks For Every Purpose

MCCORMICK-DEERING HAS LONG BEEN AGRICULTURE'S FRIEND

The McCormick-Deering Store is a well known concern and in their place of business the people of this section will find a line of McCormick-Deering farm implements, machinery, etc., that keep in harmony with modern farming.

This concern is well known by farmers, suburban residents and business people throughout this trade area. They are keeping thoroughly abreast of the times by carrying in their store the latest in McCormick-Deering farm implements, machinery and tractors. At this firm they also specialize in the repairing of tractors, farm machinery and implements of all kinds.

The name of "McCormick-Deering" has been associated with all the great developments in agriculture from the days of the sickle to the self-binder, the tractor, the plow and every modern device which today aids in rapid work on the farm. McCormick-Deering products lead throughout the country in service and low upkeep.

International Motor Trucks lead in this country not only in the service they render, but in low upkeep and maintenance. You can compare these trucks with others, and you will find that they excel in all lines of work for which they are intended.

The modern farmer of today has found that the truck really pays dividends on the farm. The McCormick-Deering Store displays an International Motor Truck that is ideal for every purpose, because of its economy of operation, the small cost for repairs and the speed. If you are figuring on a new truck, or your first truck, call on this firm and be convinced that it is the one truck you should purchase. They carry in stock a complete line of parts for these trucks. The McCormick-Deering Store is indeed an institution that Dixon people may point to with pride.

Do you know the range in weight and price on the new International Trucks?

Afford Community Important Service

BLACKHAWK PRODUCE CO. PAY CASH FOR POULTRY CREAM & EGGS

The Blackhawk Produce Co. was started some years ago on a very small scale. Today it has developed into one of the outstanding establishments within Dixon's trading area. This firm exercises the greatest care in the selection of the farm from which to buy its poultry, cream and eggs. Thus the retail whom this firm serve are assured of quality and freshness upon all occasions. A business such as this is a boon to any community well meriting the patronage of both farmers and town folk.

This concern, under the able management and supervision of Mr. G. McWethy, has developed a most extensive business in poultry, cream and eggs. This firm endeavors to give the people the best that can be had, as is evidenced by the fact that the eggs and cream bought in the district surrounding Dixon are selected in accordance with government regulations and are sold over a wide territory.

The service of The Blackhawk Produce Co. when analyzed, is of two-fold benefit to this section, inasmuch as they afford a desirable market to the reliable farmer and furnish the public, through the retailer, necessary commodities of uniform quality and freshness. Eggs, cream and poultry constitute a large portion of the daily menu, and therefore must meet the high standard rightfully required of them. Hence The Blackhawk Produce Co. is a factor to be considered in local progress.

The people of Dixon and surrounding territory are to be congratulated on having such a reliable and up-to-date concern at their service.

Do you know how long The Blackhawk Produce Co. has served the people of this section?

Supply Quality Dairy Products

DIXON STANDARD DAIRY MAINTAINS WELL EQUIPPED SANITARY DAIRY

The Dixon Standard Dairy is entirely a home-owned concern. Their plant is clean and sanitary throughout, and it has been their endeavor to give the people of Dixon and environs the best that can be had in pure pasteurized milk, cream, ice cream, butter and other dairy products. All of their milk is produced on selected farms of the surrounding territory, and is collected and brought to them by the most sanitary methods possible.

Their products are pasteurized, and for this they have strict modern machinery. Pasteurization means to heat the milk to 143 degrees, holding it at that temperature for 30 minutes, and then cooling. Thus the disease-producing bacteria are eliminated and the qualities of the milk are left unharmed.

Because milk supplies all the elements that are required to build strong and healthy teeth, bones and bodies, it may be truly said that "a dash of milk is a dash of health." A glass of milk at 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon wards off the tired feeling and beautifies the skin and clears the complexion. Everywhere school and health authorities are insisting that milk be served at schools to the children. Pure milk consistently used builds health and vigor in the frailties of bodies. We suggest that you order extra milk today from the Dixon Standard Dairy.

It is the policy of this concern to not only produce milk, cream, butter, ice cream, etc., that will meet with specified requirements, but health products that only modern machinery and consideration for their customers can produce.

We believe that Mr. Earl R. Aumma, the owner and manager and the employees of the establishment, are to be complimented upon the modern business methods that they are employing to build their business. Do you know how many local people are given employment by the Dixon Standard Dairy?

Prompt Service At All Times

YELLOW CAB CO. PROVIDE DEPENDABLE, INEXPENSIVE SERVICE

Taxicabs were originally used for business and commercial purposes only, but today their place in the social activities of the world is assured. Undoubtedly they are the most convenient means of transportation when keeping an engagement for when one bothers with the running of their car, diffidence often arise, numberless times a soil spot will get on the clothing and spoil the appearance.

The Yellow Cab Co. is always in readiness and they have sufficient cabs at their disposal to assure prompt, courteous, efficient service. A great deal of money has been put into their equipment and they have secured the highest type of motor taxicabs for their patrons.

The Yellow Cab Co. provide an up-to-the-minute transfer and baggage service, as well as taxicab service. These, too, they maintain a transportation service for picnics, weddings, funerals and other special events. These are at your disposal for a very nominal sum, and they furnish capable drivers for chauffeurs.

Call for a Yellow Cab and you will, at all times, find their drivers courteous and competent, they are men who do nothing but drive and are adroit and skillful in all traffic.

fic. The Yellow Cab Co. is entirely a home owned firm, under the ownership and management of Mr. John Wilson. They are the busy man's first thought. We suggest that you acquaint yourself with their low cost taxi, transfer and baggage service.

Do you know the number of cabs that are operated by them?

Finest Variety Of Tasty Food

IDEAL CAFE SERVES WELL BALANCED MEALS

There is something about The Ideal Cafe in Dixon that sets it apart from other eating places and that makes it highly satisfactory. The extreme care that goes into everything, the cooking, serving and arrangements create a dining room to be visited regularly.

You will like the surroundings that are so attractive and comfortable. The food is delicious, is temptingly served, and is prepared in a most careful manner in a spotless and sanitary kitchen.

Cleanliness is their motto. There one finds a tempting variety of fresh vegetables prepared to retain all their natural flavor, choice meats, rolls, real home-made desserts. One must learn for themselves what a pleasure it is to eat at the Ideal Cafe.

There good food is combined with prices of consistent modesty. Proper food, well cooked and well chosen, is an absolute essential to good health and their food is not only health building, but deliciously appetizing.

This establishment is not only well known throughout Dixon's trade area, but to the motoring public for its cuisine. Many who make trips through this section make it a point to reach the Ideal

Cafe in time for their dinner or supper, as the case may be.

The management of this concern, has been in the restaurant business for many years and is thoroughly conversant with every phase of this business and sees to it that the best of foods and service is offered their patrons at all times. Produce Healthy Sturdy Chicks

B. W. D. TESTED CHICKS ARE FEATURE OF MILLWAY HATCHERY

Specializing in the hatching of sturdy, healthy and vigorous baby chicks, the Millway Hatchery has gained an enviable reputation far and wide for furnishing baby chicks that grow — and keep on growing. Their hatchery eggs are selected from thoroughbred free-range flocks. The high quality chicks that are thus produced by this establishment make money for poultry raisers, wherever they are sent. If you are contemplating placing an order, we suggest that you purchase from them.

Their chicks are hatched under the most ideal condition, under the supervision of people who have made a scientific study of the business. The management of the Millway Hatchery has spent many years in the hatchery business and every operation of the firm is personally supervised and their superior quality blood-tested chicks are hatched in the most scientific and up-to-the-minute manner, in surroundings where the proper ventilation, warmth, etc., is taken into consideration and properly adjusted.

They can furnish you with any breed you may wish: White Plymouth Rocks, Single Comb Rhode Island Reds, Buff Orpingtons, Single Comb White Leghorns, Rhode Island Whites, Barred Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes, etc., and they are also dealers in poultry. There you buy what you want when you want them and you are assured of live, vigorous, healthy, thoroughbred, blood-tested chicks, that live, thrive and grow into money for you. Only sturdy chicks can make a profit for the poultry-raiser. That is why chicks hatched by the Millway Hatchery are preferred throughout this section.

Stories in STAMPS

GETTING OUT the VOTE

UNIQUE in the experience of political spellbinding is the issue of a set of stamps urging the inhabitants of the Saar to vote in their recent plebiscite. Under rule of the League of Nations since the war, this territory of 750 square miles, with a population of 800,000, has voted itself back to Germany.

The stamps that brought the people to the polls were those of 1934, six showing figures on the Ludwigskirche at Saarbrücken, and one a figure on the tomb of the Duchess Elizabeth at Lorraine, each over-printed with the legend, "Volkshilfe, 1935." — Plebiscite, 1935.

These, probably, are the last stamps of the Saar.
